

By working with light and space, Arrow Construction is able to create an environment that is not only a pleasure to live in but a work of art that demonstrates craftsmanship, excellence, and a dedication to quality. With a small team of talented craftsman, Arrow Construction builds only 2 to 3 homes a year. This dedication to only construct a small number of home allows the craftsman of Arrow Construction to have a hands on approach to every aspect and detail of the construction process. When the final product is completed the new home owner will know that they have a one of a kind custom home that has been built with care, patience, and passion.

Ron and the Arrow Construction team bring a commitment to quality that is hard to find today. When you talk to Ron or watch him build, you get the sense that he is building for his own family. Too many builders focus on how many homes they can build in a year and lose sight of the fact that real people will live in those homes. For Ron and Arrow Construction every detail is important. Mistakes don't get hidden behind dry wall or carpet, every detail is attended to as if their own families will occupy that home.

To us that was the deciding factor. It wasn't about saving a nickel here or a nickel there, it was making sure that our dream home was being built by someone that cared about making sure the house was perfect. No corners were cut, we were involved throughout the entire process, and Ron Made sure that we were happy with what was happening at all times.

We wouldn't hesitate for a second to recommend Ron to anyone. He stands behind his work and quite frankly his work speaks for itself.

We were impressed with many of the features, especially the European accents, user friendly design and custom kitchen-great room features...We were fortunate to watch Ron build the house and participate in his passion to architect a dream home that met his standards of quality and our approval

Our experience with Arrow Construction has been a great ride! The few months that it took to build our home was quick and "painless". Ron Pecore and faithful crew were very easy to work with, along with our own wants, needs, and ideas. Ron not only made them better, but brought them to life. Ron's attention to detail is amazing, "(and we thought we were picky)"!!! We wouldn't change a thing, "at least not the builder"!!!

K & P Comstock

...The quality of the construction is excellent and it really looks sharp. The best part is that the building was completed on - time and well under budget.

I'd recommend Arrow Construction to anyone looking to build a quality outbuilding that will probably outlast our house!
